From the Pastor

Dear Parish Family,

We are called to follow Christ in all our relationships. The goal of our prayer life, liturgical life and Eucharistic life is to follow and imitate Christ in his Love, Mercy and Compassion. We must always keep in mind that the supreme law is the salvation of souls.

Today's sacred text invites us to listen and follow the Law of the Lord. By the word "law" we mean the way to walk. Following the law means walking in the way God invites us to walk. The Law of God does not enslave us. The Law of God sets us free. The Law of God is intended for the good of the society and the individual. Take for example the Commandments. Living out the Ten Commandments establishes us in a right relationship with God. The Law invites the people to have a loving relationship with God. God is their Father. God is not a legislator. If the relationship with God is right, then it follows that the relationships with others will be made correctly. The Commandments establish a society where family life, property and life itself is protected. This being the case, a society can develop and prosper knowing that it is secure and protected under the Law.

In the first reading, Moses urges his people to follow the Commandments and the Law of God for their own good and the good of the community. Moses reminds the people that the Law is close to them. The Law makes sense. In the Gospel, Jesus takes the question of the Law even further. For Jesus, the goal of the Law is Love, Mercy and Compassion. Jesus illustrates his point by telling us the parable of the Good Samaritan. We learn that the one who followed the Law of God was the one who acted with compassion.

What is love? What is compassion and what is Mercy? According to Christ, the Law or the way to walk is summed up in the word: "Love." Love means willing the good for the other. This love is not governed by one's emotions or by likes or dislikes, but rather by the command of God to be loving and merciful. Compassion and mercy are ways to love. Compassion means to act with passion of sympathy or empathy for the suffering of others. Mercy means to suffer in one's heart for another. In the end, God's way is one of caring for the other.

What is the greatest commandment? The greatest commandment is love God, others and self. Our relationship with God, our prayer life, our sacramental life and our Eucharistic life must overflow to acting with love, mercy and compassion for others.

ELEVATOR NEWS

The Parish Elevator is fully functional and is available for Mass attendance on Saturday and Sunday as well as for Weddings and Funerals. The gates on Hicks Street are open and the button to “call” the elevator is located behind the column. Automatic doors are functional and allow easy access. We encourage all who are in need to utilize our elevator. At this time, we wish to once again thank those who supported Generations of Faith which made this possible. If you have made a pledge, kindly continue to make your payments. If you have made a pledge and cannot fulfill it, please consider reducing the amount. This can be arranged by contacting the Generations of Faith Office of the Diocese. As it stands now, unfulfilled pledges total approximately $75,000. This is the amount the parish will be “out of pocket” if these pledges are not fulfilled.
