Tax letters will be mailed to all parishioners shortly. Any parishioner who donated to our parish in the year 2021 whether on line, in person or by mail, will receive this letter. Please give the letter a chance to reach you as you know the mail delivery in our area leaves much to be desired.

Dear Parish Family,

In today's liturgy of the Word, we meet three people whose lives are completely changed due to an encounter with the Divine. The first reading presents us with the call of Isaiah. In the second reading, St. Paul proclaims the Resurrection of Christ. The Resurrection of Christ is the event which changed the apostles, if not the world. In the Gospel, we read how Peter is completely changed as he is given another insight into the identity of Christ.

Each of the readings speaks to us about a WOW moment. A WOW moment is when something happens to us which leads us to come to a deeper realization of things beyond us. These moments may be an experience of being loved by another, the realization of one's hidden talents or the realization of the existence of God which goes beyond faith. The realization changes our lives. We may see things with a greater clarity. We may act differently for the better. We may experience an inner healing or greater peace in our hearts. When did the faith in Christ become your faith and not a faith just handed on to you?

The three readings have a common thread. In each reading the main character changed. If we truly hear the Gospel, if we truly and openly encounter Christ in the Eucharist than we must change. We will be able to forgive the past and people who have wronged us, let go of anger, have compassion which is creative in seeking solutions when possible, be more self giving and even have a greater appreciation of ourselves. The closer we are to God, the more we realize the areas of our lives which need healing and change. It is only when the light of the sun shines through the window do we see that the window needs to be washed.

Look at Isaiah. He draws near to God and the encounter moves him to confess his smallness and sinfulness, yet God will make him a great prophet. Paul, the former persecutor of the Church, experiences Christ. Finally, look at Peter who is overwhelmed by the great catch of fish. He knows he is in the presence of someone who is great. His reaction is to confess his sinfulness. In each case, the three are changed and become vessels of carrying the message of the Lord to those around them. In each case, the divine touched the human heart and changed it. In each case there was a realization of human limitations and the overwhelming transcendence of God.

Where are we? While Catholicism is our religion, is it also our faith? When we pray, receive Eucharist or reconciliation, do we really reflect on our relationship with The Divine? How much affect does faith have on your every day choices, activities and relationships? It is only when we are convicted of the faith as was Isaiah, Paul and Peter that we can share our faith with others. When was the last time you shared your faith in Jesus with your questioning teenager, your spouse or even your child? Why do you believe in Jesus?

Msgr. Guy A. Massie

Happy New Year 2022! Happy New, newer You!

This note comes with blessings and hope for a happy, healthy new year full of achievable goals and HOPE and confidence in God!

I purposely waited for this week because the expectation of new year resolutions is overwhelming and far to often, disappointing! Many of us set health goals and sometimes we just set the bar to high.

Personally, I do not set any new year resolutions, but I do have goals I want to achieve, and I have HOPE and confidence in God to be successful. Having HOPE allows me to set goals in small and realistic moments as opposed setting myself up for failure and disappointment. Every day, is a change to reset, refocus, and renew, so when I have a setback (and I will), I will put my faith in God and continue to move forward!

Let us together set goals and when we fall short (as I will) let us reset, refocus, and renew our commitment to achieve the very best we can with the help of God!

Here are my goals (modified for you) and like the sock company “Bombas”, the goals I am giving through sharing/caring for others!

Goal #1 Mental Health: check in with yourself and acknowledge that you deserve happiness, love, peace, and a delicious dessert (health conscious of course!) Check in with someone who I know needs support, happiness, love, and peace!

Goal #2 Smile more, complain less, and always look for the good. This is a two-edge sword that reaps rewards beyond the imagination. Have you ever talked to a stranger?!!!! I challenge you to try it at church this week!

Goal #3 Get up and move! Exercise doesn't have to be a chore, and I need to so I plan to MOVE more and take a few reluctant people with me so they too can get up and move! Go for a walk, turn up the music and dance, park far from the entrance and walk. Stay local and walk-up Court Street and down Smith Street, walk to the waterfront park, go to a museum. Don't worry about the pace, just GO!

Goal#4 Clean out the chaos! Now this is something that is both easy and tedious as well as emotional and hard! Cleaning out the chaos can mean anything you need to let go of, that serves no purpose or has a negative impact on you or has emotional ties that need rest. PRAY and ask God for help. You can do this. I can do this with prayer and knowing that God is my strength!

Goal #5 is directly related to Goal #4; I am letting go of 22 things that serve NO purpose or have a negative impact on my life or is too emotionally exhaustive.

I pray for peace, love, and joy for each one of you! May God give you strength and confidence to achieve all your goals. Remember, it is okay to reset, refocus, and renew, you deserve it!

I encourage you to spread kindness and enjoy your walks!

Sondra
